The Association of Natural Resource Extension Professionals (ANREP) is offering several $250 travel scholarships for the purpose of encouraging both students pursuing a career in natural resources and ANREP members to attend this national conference.

Criteria for consideration include:

- First-time attendee to the ANREP conference
- Pursuit of a natural resources career, particularly a career with special interest in Extension and outreach education
- Completing 2nd year of study in a baccalaureate degree program or of graduate student status
- Demonstrated minimum 'C' average, including a letter of support and validation of grades from your advisor or professor

This conference will provide the opportunity for students to learn about the Cooperative Extension system and its natural resources programs, as well as network with natural resources Extension faculty. It is a great opportunity for early-career ANREP members to meet their peers from across the country.

To apply, visit the 2020 ANREP conference website and download the ANREP travel scholarship application located at <http://www.anrep.org/conferences>. Submit via email and send with the application attached to ckjones@cals.arizona.edu. APPLY NO LATER THAN March 15, 2020. If you are applying as a student: include a signed letter of support and grade validation from your advisor or professor.

Awardees will receive notification of scholarship award by March 27. They will receive their travel scholarship from the ANREP Treasurer, Kris Tiles, during the conference. Scholarship recipients will be expected to volunteer for part of the conference.
